

Contact: Jane Rohman, Jane Rohman & Associates 413-848-1407, jr@janerohman.com

NewsChannel 8's Capital Golf Weekly Commentator Expands On-Air Presence To Include Radio

"Golfing with Hilary" Provides Seasonal Golf News & Tips on WTEM SportsTalk 980

Washington, DC, May 9th, 2005—Washington DC's Clear Channel Public Affairs has engaged Hilary Bruggen as a seasonal commentator on area golf news for WTEM-AM SportsTalk 980 Radio. The new segment, "Golfing with Hilary," airs at 6:45am every second and third Sunday through the entire golf season, May to November.

"We are excited to have a golfer as experienced and knowledgeable as Hilary join us to provide listeners with local golf news as well as interesting tips on the game during the golf season. Hilary will cover everything from where to play and how to get started to improving one's game and using golf for career and business gain," said Jerry Phillips, DC public affairs director for Clear Channel Radio and the producer of six weekly public-affairs radio shows heard on the eight Clear Channel stations in the DC market including WTEM-AM Sports Radio. "She is just spectacular; she is so full of information and great to listen to."

Bruggen already appears regularly on NewsChannel 8's Capital Golf Weekly show with host Dave Lucas in a segment called "Bruggen's On Course" that airs Fridays at 7:30pm and Saturdays at 6:30am and 9pm.

A successful businesswoman as well as an accomplished golfer, Bruggen is President of DC-based Strelmark LLC (www.strelmark.com), a company she founded which provides all facets of business development services, including corporate training for professionals on leveraging golf for business advantage. Some of the firm's larger clients include Unisys, Clark Construction, ARPC and Weaving Capital. Bruggen is the former head of global marketing for the international accounting and consulting firm KPMG, and has held executive positions at James Martin & Co. (now Headstrong), Beers & Cutler LLC as well as Qorvis.

An avid golfer, Bruggen competed in the 2003 and 2004 Women's Southern Amateur. She also plays on the Columbia Country Club team in the District and Maryland State Championships. Additionally, Bruggen is the featured speaker for "Women on Course," a Greater Washington regional golf program developed by Arlington-based CACI Productions and sponsored by the Executive Women's Golf Association.
