

Hilary Fordwich Bio

A proven global business development leader, nationally top ranked speaker, media host and correspondent with a career spanning more than 30 years of expertise including building practices, client firms and her own successful consulting firm.

As head of BD firm, Hilary's keynotes are perfect for corporate or association events where attendees learn how to increase business through her unique approach to building strategic relationships. While highly inspirational and motivational, her sessions are both tactical and practical.

Combining her media and BD background, she Hosted Government Contracting Weekly on CBS DC affiliate W*USA-9, prior to the Sunday morning Power Block. She is currently a national media business correspondent and National Golf Course Rater for GolfWeek.

Hilary served as head of global business development for international accounting and consulting firm KPMG where she worked for over a decade in a number of the firm's offices including New York, Long Island, and Washington DC as well as overseas in Amsterdam. Stateside, she served as James Martin & Co.'s (now Headstrong) Vice President of Global Marketing and was a member of the firm's Executive Board. She has held other executive positions at leading firms including Beers & Cutler, PLC (the largest DC regional accounting firm) and as Managing Director at Qorvis Communications, LLC, a full-service PR, IR, and Public Affairs firm.

In addition to speaking and working with Fortune 1000 professional service firms, Hilary has presented at leadership, trade, and professional conferences for multiple global organizations. Her extensive keynotes include The World Congress, (NCMA), US Chamber of Commerce, United Professional Sales Association, American Marketing Association, National Press Foundation, PGA Merchandise Show, Information Technology Services, William & Mary, American University Kogod MBA Leadership Series, Marketing Association, Society for Marketing of Professional Services, Greater Washington Board of Trade, Microsoft's Annual Conference, Legal Marketing Association, Commercial Real Estate Women (CREW), and Women in Technology (WIT), among many others.

Hilary was a business and golf expert on ABC's DC Capital Golf Weekly as a regular commentator of "Hilary's On Course" as well as "Golfing with Hilary" on Washington Post Radio's Metro Talk, 107.7FM. She also lectured and helped design the curriculum for the University of Maryland's "Golf for Business and Life" program, a PGA sponsored 3-credit course offered to graduate business students. She has competed in the US Women's Southern Amateur and has won 3 Club Championships.

Hilary has written a monthly expert opinion column on business development for the Washington Business Journal and Smart CEO. Her advice has been featured in the Washington Post, The New York Times, CNN Fortune, Fox Business News, NewsMax, Chicago Tribute, NPR's Marketplace, USA Network, CBS Market-Watch, Legal Times, AOL Sports, The Wall Street Journal, CareerBuilder.com, and many other national and regional media outlets.

Hilary serves on the British American Business Association, Easter Seals and has served on other boards including Revere Bank, The First Tee DC, and Junior Achievement. She has holds many leadership positions with a number of organizations including the Northern Virginia Technology Council (NVTC) the Board of Trade and many others.

Born in England, she became a US citizen in 1982 and graduated Magna Cum Laude from UVA at Mary Washington College. She is a member of the Economic Club of Washington DC and Congressional Country Club.
